#GivingTuesday

Project Helping Hands has joined #GivingTuesday, a global day of giving that inspires people to collaborate to give back in impactful ways to the charities and causes they support. #GivingTuesday is held annually on the Tuesday after Thanksgiving. It takes place after Black Friday and Cyber Monday, officially kicking off the holiday giving season.

With #GivingTuesday fast approaching, Project Helping Hands needs your help now to ensure a successful campaign. Many non-profits are joining Giving Tuesday and that we hope our supporters and their networks of contacts will send their donation dollars our way!

#GivingTuesday is November 28th, but we have already started to collect donations. You can help support us by giving a donation today or help by spreading the word about this campaign. Learn the different ways you can support our campaign or donate today by clicking the links below.

Deployment Update

Project Helping Hands has had a very busy month of October when it comes to our current and upcoming team deployments.

We deployed two teams this month who have both completed their trips successfully and safely. Our Kenya team deployment (led by Anne-Marie Summerhays) ended their deployment on 10/22 and our Cambodia team deployment (led by Kim Glenn) is still returning home with their deployment ending on 10/29.

Looking forward to November, we have our last deployment in the 2017 year. Our team deploying into the Sacred Valley of Peru is led by Mary Perryman and deploys on 11/6. This team is still accepting support, so please consider donating to the teams here.

PHH also has a number of team deployments open for application and in serious need of volunteers. To build upon our past work in those areas, please click here to learn full details and apply for a team today.
